Cell Phone Charges Responsibility Form

By signing below, we acknowledge that we understand:

- Every cell phone provider may have different rates for international calls and data usage.
- Without proper prior planning, cell phone charges while traveling internationally can be exorbitantly large.
- It is our responsibility to research cell phone options for use during the trip and select and plan for an option that fits our needs.
- We take responsibility for ensuring that our traveler understands our family's expectations regarding cell phone calls and data usage during the trip.
- We understand that we will be responsible for any and all cell phone costs incurred while on the trip.
- We understand that it is not the trip director's, travel agent's, or chaperone's responsibility to monitor or ensure that our traveler is staying within our family's established cell phone use parameters while on the trip.
- We will discuss expectations with regard to cell phone use with each other prior to trip departure.
